

“

African communities and peoples are no strangers to myths and legends. The myths we rally around as Africans have historically been our saving grace and sanctuary.